Julia Bernet

Cava Reserva R-130 2011

Xavier Bernet started this project in 2003, guiding his work by a philosophy he calls “Closed Circle” production (he designates this on his corks), a concept based on his supervision of the entire process from start to finish. Buying grapes (as well as finished wine) has become commonplace in Cava production, but Xavi believes that the wine starts in the vineyard. From the planting of the vineyard to disgorgement and the finished wine, he is involved in all aspects of the grape’s journey to glass. The Bernet family has grown fruits and vegetables for generations - Xavi was raised in a family of pages, or peasant farmers. They always sold to the local co-op for table wine before Xavi decided he wanted to produce and bottle his own, naming the bodega after his daughter. He had no training in enology when he started, so he hired an enologist to show him the ropes. He is a farmer first and foremost; it was this devotion to the vineyard that led him to an organic certification in 2016.

The Bernet estate is located in the town of Subirats within Alt Penedès, northeast of Vilafranca and south of Sant Sadurni d’Anoia, and a one-hour drive from Barcelona and the Mediterranean Sea. Xavi owns 7 hectares in Penedès and all of his production comes from his estate vines.

The Brut Nature R-130 is made from 100% old vine Xarel-lo planted en vaso on limestone terraces at higher elevation. The grapes are hand-harvested, destemmed and pressed into steel tank. Primary fermentation occurs in tank on fine lees, and after 6 months the wine is bottled without filtration or dosage, aging in the family caves for a minimum of 4 years before disgorgement and release. Only a small addition of SO₂ occurs at pressing. All of the wine is from a single vintage, currently 2011. This is a robust Cava, to be enjoyed with friends and family along with full-flavored seafood dishes, paellas and cream-based pastas.
