PRODUCER PROFILE

Jaume Prats is Mallorquin, and after time learning about wine and winemaking in Catalunya returned to his native Mallorca to work with and recuperate an old vineyard plot of indigenous vines in the island’s interior. The plot of mixed varieties, planted on the island’s red iron-rich clay soils (known as Call Vermell) had been abandoned for more than five years. Plots like this are rare: much of the vineyard land in Mallorca was replanted to international varieties in the 1990s, so old vines of Mantonegro and other local varieties are treasures. Inspired by his work with Alella’s Oriol Artigas, he focuses on the direct expression of this singular place, fermenting the plot’s different varieties together, working without oak or sulfur, and producing only about 3,000 bottles of a single wine: Jaumet.

VINTAGE REPORT

2020 was a typical vintage in Mallorca: warm and dry, with some storms near the end of summer. Jaume harvested very early as the grapes had reached a suitable level of ripeness by the end of August.
