"1984" Tinto 2017

Diego Losada is a Bierzo native who, after working at a couple bigger wineries, struck out on his own with his project La Senda (meaning “the path” or “the way”) in 2013. He works organically with just over 5 hectares of 60+ year old vineyards at elevations of over 600 feet, about 15 parcels in total. He looks for bush vine vineyards that are not easily accessible by road and planted on either clay-calcareous or slate soils since they are less likely to be exposed to chemical treatments. He aggressively green harvests to attain yields of 1.5 kg/vine. In the winery, Diego works with a mix of unlined concrete vats and older oak & chestnut casks and foudre with no pumps, battonage or SO<sub>2</sub> additions, producing some of the most revolutionary Bierzo wines that we have encountered.

The Bierzo appellation is at the northwest corner of Castilla y León, bordering Galicia. The rolling hills are full of abandoned gold, iron and magnesium mines from the centuries past. Diego feels that these trace minerals in the soils of the vineyards give the wines added personality, and the surrounding orchards and underlying grasses, nettles and horsebane provide the natural balance he seeks.

For the 1984 cuvée, he sources from 3 old-vine vineyards in the hills of Priaranza del Bierzo, in the southwest part of the appellation. These 100% Mencía parcels are harvested by hand, the grapes are destemmed, macerated for 3-4 days in open-top, used French oak casks. The wine is then transferred to small French oak barrels to finish primary and malolactic fermentation, then age for 7-9 months without racking. The finished wine is bottled without fining, filtration or added SO<sub>2</sub>. This is amazingly fresh and engaging Bierzo, showing crushed cherries, orange zest, and scrub brush garrigue with mouthwatering acidity. Pair this lively red with anything char-grilled over wood fire or roasted on a spit.
